CARD OF THANKS

The relatives of the late Stanley Cerny desire through The Enterprise to thank all for kindnesses extended and expressions of sympathy. Especial thanks also to those who contributed flowers, namely: Mr. and Mrs. Novotny, Mr. and Mrs. Marasek, the Frank school children, Emma and Yarmila Ruzicka and others; then to F. Wejr and Mr. Drake for words of comfort, to Mr. Kotas and his band, those who loaned cars and pall bearers, consisting of boys and girls.

The Bellevue carnival will be staged in the Bellevue arena on August 9-10-11. Watch for further announcements.

WORLD'S GRAIN EXHIBITION TO BE REPRESENTATIVE

There is ample evidence to indicate that when the gates of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference open on July the 25th of next year at Regina, at least fifty-countries will be officially represented. Up to the time of writing, the following countries have definitely decided to participate: Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Estonia, Italy, The Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Switzerland, Spain, Yugoslavia, New Zealand, New South Wales, Argentina, Peru, Guatemala, India, Siam, The Philippines.

The main building, nearing completion, has a total floor space of 145,000 square feet.

THE ELKS' CARNIVAL IS AWAY TONIGHT

And now, when only a small portion of the excitement promised the Pass public has been enjoyed, comes the big one in the form of the Elks' annual three-night carnival, which opens in the arena tonight.

Everyone looks forward to this big event, which this year gives promise of being the best yet.

Attractions will include the following booths: two house-house stalls, blanket stalls, wicker chairs; table, bridge and boudier electric lamps, novelties, cat alley, refreshment and lunch booths; and then, bigger than all, the dance pavilion with music furnished by the newly-organized Alternatt orchestra.

Nightly prizes will consist of 52-piece dinner sets.

The drawing for the Chevrolet coach will take place on Saturday night.

Don't miss this big event.

LADIES' GOLF NEWS

The ladies of the Fernie Golf Club visited Blaimore on June 20th. Lunch was served at the Greenhill Grill, followed by 18 holes match play, Blaimore ladies winning by 14 points. After the game, high tea was served on the verandah of the Club house, when about forty-five ladies were seated at the tables.

The competitions for the month of June were as follows: 9 holes handicap, won by Miss Margaret Stevenson; 18 holes handicap, won by Miss Nelson. A special prize for an approaching and putting competition was given by Mrs. Pattinson and won by Miss Jean Greig.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

Mrs. G. Cruickshank and daughter Jean left for Vancouver on Friday, accompanied by Miss Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Stevenson are at present camping at the North Fork. The Hillcrest Rod and Gun Club held an outing at the North Fork on Sunday last. It was somewhat spoiled by heavy showers of rain.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Mackie left for Vancouver on Saturday, where they will spend their holidays.

Mr. Hulley's grade eight party on Monday was a great success. Light refreshments were served and dancing continued until the early hours of morning.

Miss Audrey Martin is motoring to her home in Saskatchewan, leaving here on Thursday.

Mr. C. Hulley left for Vancouver this week, where he will continue his studies at summer school at the B.C. University.

Misses Jessie and Blanche Greener returned home this week from Milk River and Claresholm, respectively.

The C.G.I.T., in charge of Miss Margaret Grant and Miss Lizzie Welsh, are at present camping at Waterton Lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Davies and family left on Monday for Edmonton, where they will spend their holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Price, of Mountain Park, were guests the past week of Mrs. J. Makin.

Mr. J. M. Windsor, manager of the Royal Bank, and Mrs. Windsor, have arrived in town this week from their honeymoon spent in Eastern Canada. —High River Times.

STANLEY CERNY IS DROWNED NEAR FRANK

News of the drowning of Stanley Cerny came as a real shock to the district on Saturday afternoon.

Stanley had been fishing in the lake near the Frank slide, in company with young Frank Edl. Stanley ventured in for a swim, and while swimming disappeared. His cham, some time afterwards, not being able to find Cerny, travelled along the creek and edge of the lake for a considerable distance and finally decided that he was in the water, so telephoned the police and Dr. Stewart, who were quickly on the scene with a search party. After a considerable time searching, the body was located in about ten feet of water, quite near where his rod and clothes lay on the bank. The body was brought to the surface and upon examination by the doctor the lad was declared dead.

Stanley was about seventeen years of age and a bright and promising lad. His parents had died years ago, and he was living with an adopted stepfather, Vinel Ruzicka, at Frank. One sister and one brother are left to mourn the loss, along with an adopted stepfather.

The remains were laid to rest in the Blaimore Union cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

DEATH OF W. K. HYSLOP

The death of William Kennedy Hyslop, of Waterton Park, occurred in a Lethbridge hospital on Friday evening last, following an illness of about three months duration.

Deceased was widely known through business circles of Vancouver, Bassano, Picher Creek, the Crows' Nest Pass and Waterton Park, and resided at the time of his illness and passing at Waterton Park, where he kept a general store. He had formerly been an active worker in the orders of the I.O.O.F. and B.P.O.E., also of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. He served overseas with the 54th battalion, returning with the rank of Lieutenant. He was born in Scotland, coming to Canada quite a number of years ago.

Besides his wife, there remains to mourn his loss, one daughter, Eileen. His brother, George Hyslop, of New York, arrived in Lethbridge on Saturday morning.

The funeral was held from Martin's undertaking parlor under the auspices of the Lethbridge branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., at 2:30 p.m., on Monday, July 6th. Interment in the Lethbridge cemetery.

CONFERENCE OF POWERS MAY BE ARRANGED SOON

London, England.—The British Government intervened drastically in discussions of President Hoover's moratorium plan by announcing its "willingness" to hold a conference of the powers chiefly concerned if the negotiations at Paris should break down.

The Associated Press learned that Great Britain has advised France that the French proposal regarding the Hoover plan constitutes an entire alteration of the Young plan in regard to the question of guarantees, and it is understood the proposals are unacceptable to Great Britain.

Officials would not confirm this information.

British official anxiety concerning the trend of events, and the government have expressed their willingness in order that an agreement should be reached with a minimum of delay—to hold a meeting of the powers chiefly concerned at an early date.

"Should no early solution be found," the communiqué reads, "the government have expressed their willingness in order that an agreement should be reached with a minimum of delay—to hold a meeting of the powers chiefly concerned at an early date."

Shipments Of Frozen Fruit Are Increasing

New Process For Packing Adopted By Vancouver Island Fruit Growers

Victoria, B.C.—Frozen strawberries and other small fruits will be shipped from Vancouver Island to the United Kingdom in steadily increasing quantity, following the adoption of a new process for packing, according to Captain F. Livesey, manager of the British Fruit Growers' Association, who expects that the berry will absorb a large part of the surplus this year.

A company has been capitalized at $75,000, most of the stockholders being berry growers. The new company is expected to handle at least 30 tons of strawberries and loganberries this season, and will seek to establish a market in London, England, where supplies recently forwarded attracted much attention.

Leads In Disarmament

Britain Has Now Gone The Limit Says Premier MacDonald

London, England.—"We have gone pretty nearly to the limit of the example," said Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald a trifle wearily in the House of Commons, as he took the navy, army and air services comparing the British figures with those of the other great powers.

"The naval appropriations of other countries have increased in much the same proportion as ours has decreased," observed the prime minister, speaking on the navy.

As he closed his disquieting comparisons Mr. MacDonald pleaded: "I would appeal to the other nations interested in peace and disarmament to admit that one nation cannot by its own example bring about disarmament—that it is the duty of every one to join together and make further disarmament possible by international agreement."

Princess Pats To Return

Ottawa, Ont.—Sufficient members of the permanent force will remain at Camp Hughes to conduct the various instructional classes, Hon. D. M. Sutherland, Minister of National Defence, has stated. "The rest of the artillery and the Princess Patricia's are being brought back to Winnipeg since it was thought better to have the troops stationed in that city."

Five Killed In Plane Crash

Opening Of Air Pageant At Hamilton Marked With Tragedy

Hamilton, Ont.—Five persons were crushed to death in a Travelair monoplane here when the pilot, attempting to avert to avoid a crowded field, lost control of his machine as the fabric on the left wing ripped and sent the plane flying over on its back.

The dead: Captain Robert Sterling, of Montreal, pilot of the plane; Harold Raine, general superintendent of the Canadian Press, Toronto; J. H. Maher, Jr., owner of the plane.

Charles L. Daly, Jr., Toronto parachute jumper.

Alfred Rogers, of Hamilton, Ont., the plane had just participated in a "rat chase" over the city in an effort to draw a crowd to the airport, where the pageant was to have been held. The pilot swerved downward, but on account of the crowded field apparently changed his mind and attempted to zoom back up, but the fabric of the machine was ripped from the left wing, and the plane crashed about 150 feet to the ground.

The plane was a mass of debris and broken parts were scattered for yards around. All except Rogers were dead when taken from the wreckage, and he died in an ambulance en route to this hospital.

What was to have been a brilliant opening of a trans-Canada air tour to help make Canada more "air-minded" was marked by tragedy.

The plane that crashed was one of a numerous fleet that was to have travelled to the Pacific Coast and back after a two-day air carnival at Hamilton. Captain Sterling would have piloted it throughout the tour.

Court Gives Judgment On Radio Broadcasting

Decision That Control Belongs To Dominion Parliament Not Unanimous

Ottawa, Ont.—Control of radio broadcasting in Canada belongs to the Dominion parliament and not to the provincial legislatures. This was the decision of a majority of the judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, handed down in the radio reference.

The court was not unanimous. Chief Justice Anglin, Mr. Justice Smith and Mr. Justice Newcombe ruled in favor of the Dominion's claim to full jurisdiction over radio on the ground, as the chief justice put it, of "convenience amounting to necessity."

In dissenting judgments, Mr. Justice Rinfret and Mr. Justice Lamont held that the jurisdiction of the Dominion was not unlimited and took the stand that the provinces were entitled to a measure of control, particularly over radio receiving operation.

The case was one of the most important handed before the supreme court in some time and turned on the construction of the British North America Act. It was brought about by the action of the Province of Quebec which contested the Dominion's claim to complete legislative control over radio.

Injured Aviatix Goes Home

Ruth Nichols Made Journey In Ambulance Airplane

Armonk, N.Y.—Ruth Nichols, Rye aviatix, whose proposed trans-Atlantic flight was interrupted by a crash in which she was injured at Saint John, N.B., returned home in an ambulance airplane piloted by Clarence Chamberlain.

Her representatives said she expected to be ready to start her interrupted trans-Atlantic flight as soon as her plane had been rebuilt, or in about six weeks.

United States Warns France

Germany Will Declare Moratorium If Hoover Plan Fails

Washington, D.C.—The United States has warned France, that failure of President Hoover's moratorium plan would unquestionably result in Germany's declaring a moratorium of reparations under the Young plan. The acting secretary of the state department said that the French government had received pleasantly the United States' formal re-expression of its position on a debt moratorium.

Court-Martial For Aviator

Chateaufort, France.—The daredevil military aviator Sergeant Herve Martin, will be court-martialed on serious charges for his responsibility in the accidental killing of two persons and injuries to two others. He was flying low above an encampment when the under-carriage of the plane struck the occupants, decapitating one of them.

British Team For Canada

Riflemen From Old Country To Enter Competition At Ottawa

London, England.—Commander Sir Lionel Fletcher, R.N.R., retired, has been appointed captain of the British team which under the auspices of the National Rifle Association, has accepted the invitation of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association to shoot in matches in the Canadian Press, Toronto, and Mackinac conditions, as known at Blaisy. The team will leave England by the Cunarder Ascania on July 24, arriving in Montreal on August 2, and will arrive home again, travelling in S.S. Anania, by about August 29.

EXPLAINS REASON FOR APPENDIX TO STAMP REPORT

Ottawa, Ont.—How the offending Appendix XII, attached to the report of the Stamp Commission which enquired into trading in grain futures, came to be affixed there was explained in the House of Commons when the prime minister tabled a written reply to a series of questions asked by Hon. W. R. Motherwell (Lib., Melville). The appendix takes the form of a chart filed by the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, and purports to show that only on a few days in the past four years were the prices for No. 3 Northern paid by the pool higher than those which could have been secured in open market trading.

Explaining the events which led up to publication of the report, Mr. Bennett's reply says:

"Mr. Commissioner Evans and the secretary of the commission (L. B. Pearson, first secretary of the Department of External Affairs), appeared before the prime minister on Saturday, May 2, with a typewritten copy of the report. The prime minister suggested to Mr. Evans and Mr. Pearson that the report should be printed, if possible, in time to be mailed to the chairman by the 'Mauretania,' which sailed from New York the following Wednesday, May 6. Only those exhibits which had been selected by the chairman were printed as appendices to the report. Among them was the chart which became Appendix XII.

"Neither the prime minister nor any representative of his government perused or checked the report or its appendices before they were sent to the king's printer. The commission was responsible for its report.

"The main report was sent at once to the printing bureau on May 2. The appendices were sent when the proof of the main report had been printed.

"A total of 10,126 copies of the report minus Appendix XII, have been distributed.

"The appendix has been removed from all copies of the report in possession of departments of the government, and those persons to whom the report, with Appendix XII, attached, has already been sent, have been asked to return the appendix to the printer to remove the appendix in question."

Complete Epochal World Flight

Post and Gatty Circle Globe In Less Than Nine Days

Roosevelt Field, L.I.—Wiley Post and Harold Gatty started a flight around the world at 7:47 (E.S.T.) July 1st, marking the 16,000-mile journey in less than nine days with 13 intermediate stops.

At 7:44 p.m., the white ship "Winie Mae" shot at terrific speed out of salmon-colored sunset and a crowd of approximately 2,000 broke into wild cheers.

Post, the one-eyed pilot, who had done all the flying on the journey around the world, shot his swift plane over the crowd, banked steeply and made three leisurely circles of the field, selecting the best possible place for the landing.

Gatty and Post completed the world flight in eight days, 15 hours and 51 minutes. Their actual flying time in the air was only four days, ten hours and eight minutes.

As soon as the plane stopped rolling, Gatty and Post climbed from the cabin, turned their plane over to a police guard, and entered an automobile which carried them half-mile across the field to the administration building.

As they left the automobile, friends and admirers of the flyers grabbed them up and carried them the last stage on their shoulders as flash-lights boomed in the falling darkness.

Suddenly the police lines gave way and the field became a bedlam with excitement, cheering, and numerous fist fights, breaking out as police, with night sticks in their hands, attempted to force a way for the flyers.

MacNider Praises Herridge

Ottawa, Ont.—Back from a ten-day visit to Washington, Col. The Hon. Handford MacNider, United States minister to Canada, Monday, June 29, spoke in glowing terms of the impression made by Major W. D. Herridge, Canada's new minister to the United States. "Everybody was tremendously impressed with Major Herridge," Col. MacNider declared.

$10,000,000 GOES UP IN SMOKE

This picture was taken when the fire which destroyed part of the famous harbor of Saint John, N.B., was at its height. The scene, looking south, shows some of the piers burning rapidly while ships are being towed away from the fire zone. SEVERE fire tragically had burned itself out. MORE THAN $10,000,000 dollars worth of damage had been done.

Radio Policy

Quebec May Appeal To Privy Council On Question

Ottawa, Ont.—The finding of the majority of the Supreme Court of Canada in favor of exclusive jurisdiction of radio was gratifying to Hon. Alfred Durneau, Minister of Marine, whose department has charge of radio.

"We did not think it advisable to outline a policy on radio broadcasting until we got the decision as to jurisdiction," said the minister. "It now rests with Premier Taschereau whether he will appeal to the privy council. If Quebec does not appeal we will take up the question as soon as the time limit for making an appeal has expired."

Canada's Sea Limit Fixed

Jurisdiction Of Customs Changed From Twelve Miles To Three

Ottawa, Ont.—A decision which sets aside that section of the Customs act giving Canadian revenue officers power to seize Canadian craft within the 12-mile limit was handed down by the supreme court of Canada in the action of Dunphy versus Croft.

The appeal was argued on behalf of the plaintiff, Captain Sylvester Dunphy, of New Sydney, by D. A. Cameron, K.C. The decision is a far reaching one in that it restricts the jurisdiction of customs officers to the three-mile limit or territory within Canadian coastal waters.

ASSISTANCE IS PROMISED FOR DROUGHT AREAS

Ottawa, Ont.—Expressing the fear that Canada is faced with perhaps "the greatest national calamity that has ever overtaken the country," as a result of the serious drought which prevailed in Saskatchewan and sections of Alberta and Manitoba, Hon. R. B. Bennett, prime minister, announced in the House of Commons, that he would submit to parliament a measure for relief of the sufferers.

The prime minister announced also that it was his intention, as soon as disposition has been made of measures on the order paper and other measures to be considered, to submit to parliament unemployment measures "that we hope will enable us to assist the people with that difficulty during the coming winter and the balance of the year that is before us."

Prefacing his remarks by the statement that this is the 64th anniversary of Confederation, Mr. Bennett went on to declare that Canada could contemplate the past with some measure of pride and satisfaction and the future with courage, hope and confident faith. But with respect to the present, conditions in certain parts of the west were such that "notwithstanding the copious rains of the last 36 hours it will not be possible for any harvest in the way of grain to be reaped in a very substantial area."

Probably more than 5,000,000 acres of land had been adversely affected by the drought, continued Mr. Bennett. From information received from the government, it was learned that at least 100,000 people were affected directly, and also their herds.

Canada, he asserted, had not hesitated to meet disastrous conditions affecting other countries. Therefore he proposed to ask parliament to assist in meeting this. The extent of the assistance would necessarily depend on information as to the need.

Co-operation of the Liberal party in any measures for meeting the situation was expressed by Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King. Co-operation would be given in the fullest measure by all members associated with him. He suggested that, as considerable sums would have to be spent in connection with this emergency, as well as unemployment, something in the nature of a national relief board should be established.

Mr. King remarked that at the time of the Halifax disaster a relief commission had been appointed to administer a fund of $200,000. He was confident that $200,000 would not begin to meet what the administration would have to spend in connection with relief this year.

Premier Bennett referred to the constitutional difficulties involved in administering federal funds for provincial purposes. The Halifax board he stated, had operated under the terms of the War Measures Act, which could not now be invoked. However, it was suggested by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, that if parliament declared unemployment an emergency, the Dominion Government could take direct steps to deal with it under certain provisions of the B.N.A. Act.

A BIG DECLINE IN PRODUCTION OF WHEAT IS SEEN

Kansas City, Mo.—Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, said in an interview here, that in his judgment, the world-wide production of wheat during the coming year would be at least 350,000,000 bushels short of last season.

This, he said, included Russian wheat and took into account the probability that Canada, at most, would have only 225 million bushels this year, that Argentina, turning to wheat, would be 30 per cent. short in wheat acreage, and that Australia would have a reduced acreage of 40 per cent.

The secretary refused to comment on the current of wheat prices in the face of these bullish factors but said prices should react to the condition when it became generally known.

The secretary said, he was informed by the Bureau of Agriculture Economics that the Danube basin—great wheat reservoir of Europe—has a carry-over of only 7,000,000 bushels, compared with approximately 28,000,000 bushels on hand August 1, 1930.

New Taxation Now Operative

Stamps On All Cheques and Increased Postal Rate Started July 1

Ottawa, Ont.—A number of the taxation features incorporated in the Budget, brought down by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett in his capacity of Minister of Finance at the beginning of the present month, came into operation on July 1. Of these the one that has most widespread effect is the increase in postal rates.

Penny postage disappeared except only in respect of drop letters—that is, letters delivered in the same town as that in which they are mailed. An additional cent was imposed in the budget on "out-of-town" letters, so that henceforth the minimum rate for these, on and after July 1, will be three cents.

The stamp tax of two cents on all cheques, irrespective of their value, became effective also on Dominion Day. Previously the tax applied only to cheques issued for upwards of $10.

Provisions of the income tax amended with the sole exception of that relating to the two per cent, payable by Canadian corporations to non-resident shareholders, became operative July 1.

New Constitution For Spain

Universal Suffrage, Religious Freedom and Abolition Of Titles

Madrid, Spain.—A preliminary draft of a new constitution providing for universal suffrage, religious freedom and abolition of all titles of nobility was made public by the government commission created some time ago to prepare the document.

It provides for a presidential term of six years, the president to be elected by a majority of the senate and the Lower House in joint session. There would be 240 senators divided equally among the "cultural, industrial and labor entities," and 470 deputies elected by popular suffrage, including the vote of women.

Returns from the day's general assembly election confirm the original belief that the Conservative Republican-Socialists have an overwhelming majority in the assembly with the Monarchists left only five deputies out of more than 350 and the Communists with none at all.

Postage Stamps On Cheques

May Be Used Instead Of The Excise Stamp

Ottawa, Ont.—Postage stamps may be used for the two-cent tax on cheques and money orders. Premier R. B. Bennett announced in the House of Commons. In opposition to the tax, which went into effect July 1, Hon. Fernand Rinfret, former secretary of state, declared one of the nuisances in connection with it was that a special excise stamp had to be used and these were frequently not easy to obtain outside banking hours. The prime minister then told the members of the House that a change had been made from the method of collection a few years ago, and postage stamps might be used.

Demands Fuel Inquiry

Edmonton, Alberta.—Demand for a public inquiry into the operation of the Alberta wheat pool and its elevator system, such as was recently conducted in Manitoba, was made by W. R. Howson, Liberal member of the legislature for Edmonton, in a public statement issued here.

CANADIAN DRINKING

Without any notice against our own sacred system, let us take a peep at the results of the less lofty Canadian plan of government control of liquor. The Montreal Gazette gives us the official figures. In 1930 the eight provincial liquor commissions reported gross sales of $130,000,000, some $3 per capita. Actually, American tourists must have settled for no small part of this bill. More than 5,400,000 American automobiles went to the Dominion last year. How many of their occupants, from scientific, sociological or other motives, visited the government liquor shops can only be guessed.

Let us go back to 1914, when the travelers were few in comparison and there were hospitable saloons in every province:

"A population of some 7,500,000 then consumed 8,483,163 gallons of spirits, 54,409,859 gallons of malt liquors and about 1,000,000 gallons of wine. In 1930 a population estimated at 9,500,000 shared 5,000,000 gallons of spirits, 62,000,000 of malt liquors and 7,341,000 gallons of wine. In other words, the per capita consumption of spirits in 1914 was 1.105 and in 1930 it was .306; malt liquors, respectively, 7.558 and 6.27; and wines, .138 and .741. Thus Canadians are drinking only about one-third as much spirits, slightly less beer and five times as much wine. But the total consumption of all alcoholic beverages is a half-gallon less per individual than it was 16 years ago."

Could the efforts of the American auxiliary service be computed accurately, the comparison might be even more surprising. However depressing even the modified thirst of our neighbors may seem to our severer moralists, the sums that bow into the federal and provincial treasuries from government liquor control must stir envy in our taxpayers whose government has thrown away so immense a form of revenue and tosses so many millions after it every year to stage the tragic-comedy of "enforcement." About 12 per cent of the Dominion Government's revenue "is paid by the drinker." In 10 years the net profits on liquor sales in the eight provinces where Government control is established were about $146,000,000. The governments need the money and they get it. In the United States they need it and can't get it.

Over the border, temperance increases and the drinker is a source of revenue. The United States doesn't want temperance. It wants—or did want—prohibition. No compromise with Beulah. Liquor taxes are "taint-lead money." So put up the tax bills while everybody who has the will and "the price" is putting down the run.

NEW VERSION OF
THE 23RD PSALM

Bennett is my shepherd; I am in want.
He maketh me to lie down in railway depots;
He leadeth me beside the silent factories;
He restoreth my hopes in the Liberal party!

He leadeth me in the paths of desolation for his party's sake!
Lo, I fear great evil; for thou art against me.

Thy politicians and thy profiteers they frighten me.
Thou preparest a reduction in my wages before me in the presence of mine enemies.

Thou annoiest my income with taxes.
My expense runneth over;

Surely unemployment and poverty will follow me all the days of the Conservative administration;

And I will dwell in a lowly rented house for another four years.—Anon.

TELL TROUBLES
TO R. B. BENNETT

It is the general impression that when people are in trouble of any sort they write to Dorothy Dix or to Winona Wiley. It seems this is not so, but that a vast number of Canadians take their troubles trustfully to Ottawa. If you want your boots to grow, or your wife to stop quarrelling or your price to be improved, write to Hon. R. B. Bennett and as a rule the letter will be answered by some department.

The Toronto Star publishes a few examples of the varied appeals that the government deals with:

"Being we lost a truck we used to get wood to, pay our taxes, could you lend us the money to buy a new one?" asks a Saskatchewan farmer.

"Please send me a ticket for the Olympian Sweepstake."

This one from Toronto: "I have room to let for polling booth six. We have always voted Conservative for three generations. Can you help me?"

This to Mr. Bennett from a small town in Nova Scotia: "Your unemployment policy is hush-bug. Your party promised to clean the Conservative quarter here, but they never asked any unemployed person to do it, not even a poor woman like myself."

Then there are the scores of letters from puzzled citizens wanting expert advice on various problems.

"My dog Pat's hair is falling out. What will I do about it?" writes a little boy to the prime minister. The letter goes to experts in the livestock division and an answer is forthcoming.

"How do you use waterless cookers?"

"Please send me a good recipe book."

The livestock branch at Ottawa runs a first-class cooking and recipe bureau and pamphlets dealing with all the problems of this kind are available for circulation.

"How can I keep house for a family of six on $12 per week?" Well, this is a hard one, but the Labor department gives a weekly budget which indicates what portion of the average income should be spent in light, food, shelter, fuel and clothes. Sometimes individuals write so many letters on a single topic that they become sort of intimate acquaintances of higher political circles. Sometimes years of correspondence terminate in bloodshed. Ministers and officialdom will not soon forget old August Swanson who wrote letters to the government—to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Robert Borden, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Rt. Hon. W. L. M. King—about a few acres of land in southeastern Manitoba. Swanson believed the land was his; wanted the government to issue him title. The land did not belong to him and the government could not issue title. And so, after 20 years of letter writing, Swanson bought an old revolver and came to Ottawa. That was in 1928. He tried to assassinate Premier King, but Mr. King was absent from his office that day. He waited for Hon. Ernest Lapointe, but his patience being exhausted, he shot himself just outside the door of the office of the minister of justice.

And the next day a government truck carried the huge file of Swanson's letters and the answers of various public men to the letter morgue.

AT THE MINIMUM RATE

The following Scotch story will appeal to even the dourdest Scot and will be appreciated by everyone who is astute enough to get it:

A Scotchman went on a motor trip with his brother and as a result of the latter racing a Ford car an accident occurred in which his sister Alice was killed. Proceeding to the nearest telegraph office he discovered that he could only send ten words at the minimum rate and this is how he broke the news to his people at home: "Sandy detained erased afford correct allot analysis hurt infectious dead."

This takes some thinking, but it is worth it.—The Caduceus.

TO LIFT LIABILITY
FROM MUNICIPALITIES

The following important resolution was passed at the closing session of the annual convention of the Alberta Municipalities Union at Calgary last week:

"1. That in our opinion the responsibility for the care of transient unemployed is the sole duty of the provincial and Dominion governments."

"2. That all transient unemployed be placed in camps under government supervision and employed in useful public works."

"3. That the provincial government institute immediately a system of provincial-wide registration of all unemployed."

"4. That the province police the borders of Alberta and turn back all non-resident unemployed."

"5. That residence for purposes of indigency within a municipality can only be established by a continuous residence of one year."

"6. That no distinction be made between urban and rural unemployed in work on highways entirely built by the provincial government, especially where the Dominion government grants are given for relief work."

"7. That the same treatment be accorded all towns and villages as the cities insofar as government-assisted municipal relief work projects are concerned."

"8. That the provincial and Federal governments assume a large proportion of the cost of municipal relief works."

"9. That a permanent commission be appointed by the Dominion government to deal with unemployment in order to prevent a recurrence of the present conditions."

Copies of the resolution were forwarded to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, Hon. G. D. Robertson, minister of labor, and Premier Brownlee of Alberta.

TO STUDY PACIFIC COAST GLACIERS

Dr. Harry Fielding Reid, of Baltimore, Maryland, prominent scientist and former Professor of Dynamical Geology at Johns Hopkins University, and C. W. Wright, Washington, D.C., assistant director of the United States Bureau of Mines, visited Jasper Park Lodge enroute via Canadian National Railways through the Rockies to the Pacific Coast and the ice-covered region of Glacier Bay, Alaska. The two geologists form an expedition sent by the U.S. Geological Survey to make a study of the great ice fields of Glacier Bay and particularly of the famous M. J. Glacier.

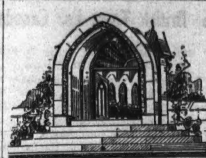

Dr. Reid mapped the Glacier Bay region in 1892, while Mr. Wright in company with his brother, F. E. Wright, studied the area for the Geological Survey in 1906. The two will now compare their previous findings in an effort to discover the rate at which the glaciers are retreating.

According to Dr. Reid, glaciers the world over are rapidly receding and it is known that those in the Glacier Bay region have retreated rapidly during the last 150 years. M. J. Glacier itself has receded eight or ten miles since the latter part of the nineteenth century and Dr. Reid expects to find correspondingly extreme changes in the other glaciers.

Accompanying the two geologists are Fredrick Wright, son of the Washington mining expert, and Thomas Dunstan, well-known sportsman from Harvard University. The two younger men will act in the capacity of assistants.

Mrs. L. K. Parr and her three sons, Gordon, Jack and George McKay, left Thursday for their new home at Starbuck, near Winnipeg. Jack went by train and the balance of the party went by motor. Mrs. Parr and family have long been residents of Clarholm and their many friends regret their removal, at the same time wishing them well in their new venture.

W. S. Benn and family have moved into Mrs. Parr's residence—Clarholm Local Press.

IN BIBLICAL DAYS
DEBTS WERE WIPED OFF

In the laws of ancient Israel there were wise provisions which, if copied in principle by modern nations, would forever avert money panics and serious depression. The democrats call it "panics." The republicans call it "depression."

In the first place, usury or interest from fellow citizens of Israel was absolutely forbidden. They were provisions for lending and borrowing, no interest charge was to be made, either for money or collaterals.

Thumb Sketches
By Cy
The Limit

ONE morning last January I stepped into the corridor of an office building to wait for a street car. You must wait for a street car occasionally in most cities. It was a rather cold and snappy morning, this. The thermometer on the wall outside the door said twenty below, and notwithstanding the rumor that "you don't feel the cold" in Western Canada, people who waited for a car flocked to this free waiting room like sparrows to the eve closest to the furnace chimney. Two modern flappers whose high-heeled shoes, silk stockings and today's custom are responsible for a fair share of the street railway company's income, stood close to the radiator.

"Say, kid," said the tall one, "did you hear about Tommy Jones?" "No," said the short one, "what is it?" "He's buzzing round with that Smith skirt," came the information promptly.

Then came the rumble of an approaching car. Both girls pulled their sealskin coats close round their slim bodies, both bolted for the door, and both said in the same breath, "Well, ut that ain't the limit," and "what'll I know about that?"

This ordinary of ours is truly a wonderful language, more wonderful in the ordinary everyday gossip of the masses than it is in the books of the "best" authors. "The sky's the limit," expressed quite accurately the stimulated egotism of a celebrated editorial writer during some sort of game some people play with cards.

Somelody, some day, will coin a new phrase to express the limitless limit, so to speak, something along the lines of the bacchant ballad:

"Let's do some wild act owin' Before we hit the hay; We don't know where we're goin' But we know we're on the way."

Incidentally, the sewing of cuts suggests a fairly good example of this idea of a limitless limit. The regulations covering the competitive exhibits for the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina in 1928 contain a clause of this nature. According to this clause, if there are farmers on Mars and they have the idea that they grow the best grain in the universe they are eligible to enter. It's wide open.

Most things, however, have a definite limit, though it may not be apparent to a mind beguiled by enthusiasm, excitement, selfishness or some other cause.

During a flying trip across country the plane hit an air pocket and nearly dropped three or four hundred feet. "How far can one of these planes drop?" asked an excited passenger, who up to this time, had been enjoying his first flight experience. "The world's the limit," replied an old stager who was sitting in the same seat. So it is with the big show of 1932.

But a provision far more reaching was the year of jubilee. Every 50th year every debt of every kind was to be wiped out and cancelled. This was true of every sort of mortgage—land, chattel or slave.

It was then possible for a man to sell himself or his son into slavery to satisfy debt, but every sale of this kind or of any kind was made in view of the year of jubilee. That is, the closer the time to the 50th year the less value any transaction would have.

Some will say this won't work. We reply: "But it did work and it was the command of the Almighty himself."

I do not say we could follow exactly the laws of the Jewish theocracy in this respect, but the principle is correct and something could be worked out. As it was in the republic of Rome, debt is everybody's worry.

Our laws make it possible for a few men to dam up the source of money supply. That is what has happened. Unless some drastic action is soon taken, disaster is bound to follow. God only knows what the end will be.—Ex.

OCEAN TRAVEL HEAVY TO TROPICAL COLONIES

The Canadian National Steamships announce that the Canada-West Indies liners "Lady Somers" and "Lady Rodney" are booked to capacity for their next voyages from Montreal to the tropical colonies. Moreover, these same liners are almost booked to capacity for their sailings during the month of August. Corresponding crowds of passengers will be returning to Montreal late in July and during August and September aboard the same liners.

The fact shows that the British West Indies, described by Lord Willingdon as the "Sunroom of the Empire" is as popular a summer vacation land as a winter playground. Jamaica, whose high hills are always cool in summer and where evening breezes bring easy sleep, is proving a special holiday resort for Canadians. Though Bermuda continues to be popular, there has been an increase of more than 50 per cent in the number of Canadians and Americans who travel farther south than Bermuda on the Canadian National liners.

BUSINESS cars, light delivery cars and taxis go farther with fewer interruptions on Goodyear Heavy Duty Tires. Road shocks at high speeds hold no terrors for the specially-built Super Twist carcass of the Goodyear Heavy Duty. The sharp, rugged blocks of its All-Weather Tread resist every effort of rain, snow and ice to slow up schedules.

We're proud to sell the Goodyear Heavy Duty Tire. We would like to put it on just one of your cars or trucks to prove what it can do for you. Why not make this worthwhile experiment now?

CORBIN HAPPENINGS

Corbin school was dismissed for the summer vacation on Tuesday, June 30th, in the presence of Mr. E. L. Warburton, chairman of the board, and Mr. Walter Almond, secretary. The examination papers were on display and special exhibits from both rooms. A goodly number of ladies were present to hear the promotion lists announced. Both trustees gave short, but interesting addresses to the pupils, after which the winners received their awards. The results were as follows: Special prizes for best work throughout the year, donated by Mr. Warburton, were awarded to Marie Almond and Dennis Parsons in the senior division, and to Joan Venables and Dan Worobee in the junior division. Special prizes, donated by Mr. W. Almond, were awarded for arithmetic to John Barattelli and Nancy Jackson in the senior division, and for spelling to Andy Waddington and Grace Grieve in the junior division. Prizes donated by Miss S. G. Timaeus, principal, for the highest aggregate obtained in each grade in the examination, were awarded to Margaret Gibson in grade seven-a, Buddie Hoffman in seven-b, Jeanette Queen in five-a, Ella Barnes in five-b, Albert Hoffman in five-c. Special prize for history and geography was awarded to Pat Roger, grade seven. The honor roll for the senior division was given as follows: Nancy Jackson, proficiency; Marie Almond, deportment; Richard Greig, regularity and punctuality. In the junior division: Norman Taylor, proficiency; Jimmie Greig, deportment; Billy Stone, regularity and punctuality. The following promotions were made, the names arranged in order of merit: From 7 to 8—M. Gibson, M. Worobee, I. Emmerson, P. Roger, B. Elliott; from 5 to 6—J. Queen, N. Petruniak, J. Worobee, N. Jackson, E. Barnes, I. Kossiw, M. Kollinski, B. Barnes; from 4 to 5—N. Taylor, A. Waddington, B. Roberts, F. Shepherd, B. Barnes, F. Kollinski, D. Venables, J. Greig, W. Dornan; from 3 to 4—H. Gibson, G. Grieve, E. Waddington, J. Dornan, G. Barnes, B. Barnes, G. Grieve, J. Posor; from 2 to 3—M. Mansell, H. Jorgenson, M. Dornan, D. Shepherd, S. Foster; from 1 to 2—J. Venables, D. Lemeshuk, D. Worobee, E. Grieve, B. Stone, N. Lemeshuk, J. Morgan. After awards had been made, a short programme was put on by Mrs. Wilson, junior teacher, consisting of songs and recitations by her youngest pupils. The five pupils who wrote entrance examinations in Corbin were: D. Parsons, A. Barnes, H. Knight, J. Barattelli and M. Almond.

With the passing away of Mr. Richard Bunt on Wednesday evening, July 1st, one of the oldest residents of Corbin went to his reward. Death occurred very suddenly to Mr. Bunt, who was in his seventy-sixth year. His wife predeceased him some nine years ago. Funeral service was held in the United church at Michel on Sunday.

Miss A. Wilson, junior teacher, is spending her vacation at the coast. Members of the Tennis Club met on Monday evening for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. Alex. McVey was elected president, and Mrs. T. Collis secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Almond, accompanied by their daughters Violet, Eileen and Marie, motored to Lethbridge for the July 1st holiday.

Mrs. (Dr.) R. Elliott has as her guest this week Mrs. H. Maird, of Fernie.

Mrs. H. Ferryman entertained at several tables of bridge on Thursday evening, in honor of Mrs. H. Maird.

Miss May Parsons and Messrs. B. Elliott and Tom Ferryman have arrived home for the summer holidays. They are students at the Fernie high school.

Miss Joan Shaw entertained a number of her little friends on Monday afternoon of this week, the occasion being Miss Joan's fifth birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kremenech, who were married at Blaimore on the morning of the sixth, took the train for Corbin, where they were met by cars awaiting the bridal party and escorted them to the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Bunt. A host of friends joined in the merry-making during the afternoon and evening. Mr. and Mrs. Kremenech will take up residence in Corbin. The bride was formerly Miss Annie Dobec, of Blaimore and Burnis.

The marriage of Miss Gladys Price of Coleman, and Mr. J. Thompson, of Corbin, was solemnized early Monday morning at Coleman. After a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, the young couple left on a short visit to Calgary. Upon their return, they will reside in Corbin.

REASONS WHY MEN

ABANDON HOME GIVEN

One dozen reasons why men leave home are listed by a Court of Domestic Relations, which prides itself in coaxing, cajoling or forcing 50,000 errant husbands to return to their wives and families in a single year.

The principal reasons given why husbands "fly the coop" are:

Cause	Percentage
"Another Woman"	41
Money troubles	12
Wife's infidelity	10
Wife's nagging	8
Mother-in-lawism	7
"Just tired of wife"	6
"Too many children"	6
Wife's extravagance	4
Disillusionment	3
Bad cooking	2
Wife's untidiness	1
Wife's indifference	1

Responsibility for a broken home is usually found to be a 50-50 proposition. There are as many temperamental husbands as there are temperamental wives. Spring cleaning and holiday noise is found to cause hubbies to go A. W. O. L. It is found that more husbands desert their families in summer time than in any other period. But—

"Marriage," to quote this authority (though unmarried), "is and always will be a going concern. It will pay big dividends to those who are willing to enter it with the ideals of fair play and determination to make a go of it. Marriage takes plenty of diplomacy, a good deal of charity and considerable tact if it is to succeed. If more married people would be a bit more willing to turn the other cheek instead of demanding an eye for an eye in their disagreements marital life would be more pleasant."

LONG-LENT WANTS

A scientific journal suggests a number of much-needed inventions. Strangely, however, it omits from its list the following:

A self-washing automobile.

An airplane that is not subject to the law of gravitation.

A golf ball with a photograph attachment that will sing, "here I am."

An angler's scales that will corroborate the fisherman's story.

A berry basket that will prevent all the best berries from staying at the top.

A telephone call bell that will inform us who is on the other end of the wire.

An attachment for home radios that will pass the collection plate after the Sunday sermon—Boston Transcript.

C.N.R.'S LITTLE COUSIN

If Canadians are proud of the long railway system in the New World and the second longest public-owned railway in the world, the Canadian National Railways, the British West Indies colony of Barbados is none the less proud of its own "national system."

The Barbados Government Railway, taken over by the state in 1926 from a private company, is one of the shortest in the world. It is 24 miles long and traverses the little tropical island from north to south, having Bridgetown and St. Andrew as its terminals. The Canadian National's trains run over standard gauge rails, separated by four feet eight and one-half inches. The Barbados "National" trains run over a gauge of two feet six inches.

WHERE PERIL LIES

The grave economic situation in the Western world is not due to a "Russian peril." It is due to our own defective social organization. So long as Western people tolerate a condition in which hunger increases while food stocks accumulate and cannot be distributed, and millions of citizens go improperly clad while clothing factories lie idle, the peril will remain. The responsibility lies with those who, having power over our financial and economic order, block the way to social reorganization. And

L. H. Newman

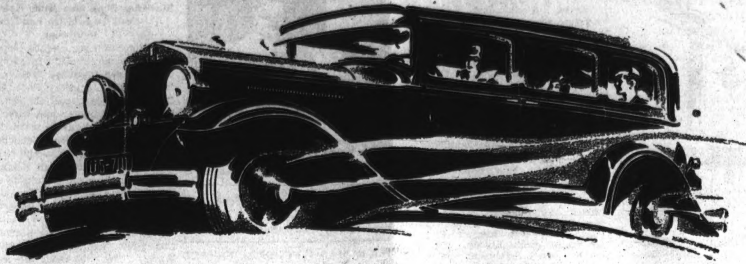

WHEN the time arrives to place the awards as set out in the generous cash prize list covering the competitive classes of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina in 1932, L. H. Newman, Dominion Cerealists, will have completed the work assigned to him in this organization.

Mr. Newman is the chairman of the Awards Committee, and to him and those associated with him has been given the task of working out different awards, the classification for competitive exhibits and the hundred and one other things relating to competition which will make the 1932 world-wide event a successful undertaking.

Merrickville, Ontario, is the birth place of Mr. Newman. He was educated at the University of Toronto, receiving there a B.S.A. degree. He took special studies at the Iowa State College, the Cambridge University and Savio, Sweden, in plant breeding. From 1905 to 1923 he was secretary of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, being appointed Dominion Cerealists in 1923.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

The early sowing of spring wheat, which stands a foot high, is now headed out. This unusually quick maturing has been caused by weather conditions. The later sowing promises to make a much heavier yield than that which was seeded earlier. Brome and other meadow grasses are short and will harvest a light hay crop.

Brad Tustian has gone to Leduc, where he is employed with the C.P.R. Walter Wilson, who has been employed with a surveying party in Mexico for the past year and a half, is home on a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner, who have resided in Calgary for around two years, have moved to this district.

Several heavy showers of rain fell in this locality the past week, making prospects look much brighter.

Besides a large number of the village folk, who attended on foot, the sports field was black with cars on the evening of July 1st, when Cowley showed their first undertaking of fireworks display.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coghill, of Warner, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Littleton.

Miss Blanche Anderson, of Pincher Creek, spent the week end the guest of the Misses Morrison.

Mrs. Snyder, of Grimsby, Ontario, is paying a visit to Jesse Snyder and family here.

Mrs. A. G. Swart and Miss Netta, and Master Gordon are spending the week in Calgary, incidentally taking in the Stampede.

David Bouthillier, who was a patient for several days in the H.L. hospital, has returned home much improved in health.

THE WORLD'S LONGEST SERMON

A colored pastor in Washington has concluded, as a stunt, what is believed to be the longest sermon on record.

It lasted for twelve hours and ten minutes and consisted of 88,704 words.

It may have been a source of great satisfaction to the pastor. It may be a source of satisfaction to those cheerful idiots who revel in world's records.

Christ's sermon on the mount, containing the essence of all Christianity was spoken in fewer than 2,900 words.—Ex.

Minaki Lodge in Ontario, owned and operated by the Canadian National Railways, was officially opened on June the 26th by Sir Henry Thornton, chairman and president.

Mr. Andrew Barrett, editor of the Western Star, Newfoundland, accompanied by his brother Doyle, of Forestburg, Alberta, passed through Blaimore on Wednesday morning, motoring to Vancouver.

A country girl, travelling alone, had been warned not to talk to strange men. At the station, the conductor asked: "Where are you going?" "To Chicago," she replied; so he put her on a Chicago train. As the train pulled out, she said: "I fooled him that time. I'm going to Detroit."

The introduction of the fatherless shave is working wonders. A few days ago, we entered a barber shop, and, really, the victim in the chair resembled one who had experienced contact with a knife. It took about seven plasters to cover up the bleeding spaces on his face. Sure, these modern times are wonderful—get away from chances of disease and lose your life-blood!

THE PREACHING OF THE APOSTLES

Golden Text: "We must obey God rather than men."—Acts 5:29.
Lesson: Acts 3:1 to 4:31; 1 Corinthians 1:21-25.
Devotional Reading: Romans 10:8-15.

Explanations and Comments

The Arrest of Peter and John, 4:1-18—Priests and Sadducees and the captain of the temple were troubled because Peter and John proclaimed the resurrection of Jesus Christ. The captain of the temple was the commander of the temple guard, and was himself a high priest. The high priestly class at the time belonged, did not believe in the doctrine of a resurrection, and, of course, it was especially difficult to them to have the apostles teach the people that Jesus had risen from the dead. They arrested the apostles, but because it was too late for a trial that day they had them imprisoned for the night. The result of Peter's preaching, Luke now tells us, was that about five thousand men believed in Christ. No wonder the authorities were startled when men of Jerusalem who had cried "Crucify Him," were now convinced that the Crucified was the Risen Savior.

Peter's Boldness Before the Sanhedrin, 4:15-18—On the morning the rulers and scribes, who composed the Sanhedrin, sat in session. The Sanhedrin was the great Jewish tribunal, which was supreme in all matters affecting the Jewish law, the sentence of death being the only penalty which they might not impose. Anna and Caiphas, before whom Jesus had been brought a prisoner, were also present. The Sanhedrin sat in a semicircle and the witnesses, Peter and John, stood before them. The man whom Peter had healed was also there, as a kind of accessory to the "legal" case.

"By what power, or in what name, have ye done this?" the officials demanded. Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit and eager to use the chance given him, replied: "Ye rulers of the people (chief priests) and elders (representatives of the Sanhedrin), if we this day are examined concerning a good deed done to an impotent man, by what means this life is made whole, if it be not by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even in Him doth this man stand before you whole." Thus Peter answered their question and with superb daring accused them of the crime of having put to death the Lord's Anointed.

"He is the stone," which was as much as to say, "He is the one who is the head of the church," which was made the head of the church. The stone made the head of the church in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even in Him doth this man stand before you whole. Thus Peter answered their question and with superb daring accused them of the crime of having put to death the Lord's Anointed.

"We," in the Greek has an emphatic position at the end of the sentence, as it also does in verse seven. By what name have ye, ignorant men, done this? There is no other name wherein we—ye judges and we the fishermen—must be saved.

"I find a man trying to lift a stone, which is too heavy for his strength, and I say to him: 'Get out your tackle and pulleys, and then you can lift it. You cannot move that stone without a tackle and pulley.' And no man can take the fruits of civilization unless he lays hold on powers other than his own; and no man can take the fruit of high, noble, divine, moral, spiritual culture unless he rests on and lays hold of powers that are not his own, that make for righteousness."

The Apostles Threatened and Dismissed, 4:18-22—The Sanhedrin marvelled at the boldness of Peter and John, who they perceived were unlearned and ignorant men; and seeing the man that was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it. They could neither dispute the fact of the cure nor answer the arguments of Peter. "What must we do with these men?" they questioned. Accordingly they decided to threaten the apostles, hoping that to prevent their speaking to any one in "this Name."

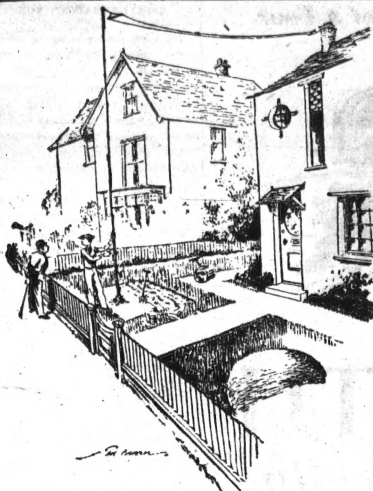

Peter and John were recalled and were charged not to speak nor teach in the name of Jesus. Respectfully and magnificently they answered: "Whether it is right in the sight of God to hearken unto you rather than unto God, judge ye; for we cannot but speak the things which we saw and heard."

Demand For Vegetables

The increasing demand for vegetables in the diet is probably largely responsible for the rapid expansion which took place last year in the vegetable growing industry throughout Canada. The increase in 1920 was 64.8 per cent. as compared with 1919. Total production amounted to 10,066,614 cans.—Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Post Offices In Canada

Canada has 12,427 post offices, an increase of 18 since last year, and of 180 since 1922, was the reply given by Hon. Arthur Sauve, postmaster-general, to a question asked in the House of Commons. Rural mail carriers throughout the country number 4,264.

Praises St. Lawrence Route

Captain of Cunard Liner Speaks Highly Of Efficient Aids To Navigation

The aids to navigation on the St. Lawrence River are the finest to be found in the world, according to Captain W. C. Battle, D.S.C., R.D., R.N.R., commander of the Cunard liner "Antonia."

"In making this assertion," said Captain Battle, "I feel I can do so without fear of contradiction, having served as a navigating officer on three Cunard World Cruises, and practically every other shorter cruise to various parts of the world I have yet to find anywhere such a splendid service at the disposal of shipping as is provided by the many efficient aids to navigation on this river. The co-operation received from radio stations particularly is extremely helpful. Ships' queries are answered immediately and accurately."

Captain Battle, who is making his second voyage on the "Antonia" as a liner captain, has seen twenty-four years service as a Cunard officer.

He joined the company when he was twenty-six years old as Fourth Officer on the "Carnegie" leaving that vessel he was transferred to the "Lusitania" on which famous steamer he made her maiden voyage. After five voyages in this sister ship of the "Mauretania" he rejoined the "Carnegie" as First Officer. At the outbreak of the Great War, Captain Battle was appointed naval officer of the "Carnegie," in which capacity he witnessed the historic struggle between the German cruiser "Cap Trafalgar" and the "Carnegie" in which the enemy ship was destroyed during one of the most famous minor naval actions of the war.

Captain Battle commanded the destroyer "TB 29" in the Mediterranean toward the end of the War, after which he rejoined the Cunard fleet as first officer on the "Pannonia." Subsequently he served as Chief Officer and Staff Captain of the "Aquitania" in which ship he has spent the last three years before being appointed to command the "Antonia." Captain Battle declares himself extremely glad to be able to sail into Montreal and looks forward enthusiastically to serving a number of years in the Canadian Service of the Cunard Line.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

FOUR MAN'S PUDDING FRAPEE

- ½ cup rice.
- 5 cups milk.
- ½ cup sugar.
- ½ teaspoon salt.
- ½ teaspoon vanilla.
- 1 cup whipped cream.
- ½ cup candied ginger.

Wash the rice well, then mix it with milk, sugar and salt, pour into a baking pan and place in a very moderate oven, 300 degrees, to bake from two to three hours. Stir frequently for the first hour, then add the vanilla and finish baking without stirring. Chill thoroughly, skim off the crust and fold in the ginger cut in tiny pieces and half the whipped cream. Arrange in sherbet glasses, glasses, topping each with a rosette of whipped cream and a bit of ginger. Chill almost to freezing before serving.

DINNER PUNCH

(Serves 4-6)

- Juice of 2 lemons.
- Juice of 1 grapefruit.
- 2 cups water.

Mix thoroughly.

For Variation: Add to the above mixture 1 cup of the juice of another fruit, such as grape juice, raspberry juice, loganberry juice, pineapple juice, elder or the juice from any canned fruit.

Or add 1 cup of a puree made by forcing peaches, pears, apricots, bananas or berries through a potato ricer or coarse sieve.

A Popular Service

Growing Demand Is Shown For Government Graded Beef

There could be no better indication of the rapidly growing popularity of the Beef Grading Service of the Dominion Department of Agriculture than the increase of over 70 per cent. in the volume of beef graded for sale throughout Canada between April and May of this year. Only a little over a year in operation the Beef Grading Service graded and branded a total of 1,199,357 pounds of "red" and "blue" brand beef in April last. In May this total rose to 1,983,027 pounds. Of the May total, 1,333,247 pounds graded "good," for branding "blue," and 649,775 pounds "choice" for the "red" brand. Figures by provinces show a rapidly increasing demand for government graded beef, particularly in Ontario and Quebec.

Sea Safer Than Land

Statistics Show Sea Made Safer, But Peril To Life On Land Is Increasing

Curious how a legend, especially when it is born and nurtured by fear, survives demonstrated fact. There is the legend of the "Peril Of the Sea," of the danger of the sea. Ships have become bigger and safer, shipwrecks fewer and far between, loss of life at sea quite rare. Yet while the sea is being made safe, and the peril of life on land has been rising from year to year, people remain as unconcerned as one movement as of the ocean. They still regard the sea as a place of peril.

Interesting statistics, bearing on this point, appear in the Shipping World. In 1896-1899, the average annual total losses of British ships were approximately 450 ships or about 175,000 tons, and the average loss of life in British ships was over 1,000 persons per annum. In 1924-1926, the corresponding figures were 175 ships or about 95,000 tons, and the loss of life about 220 persons per annum.

The story of these statistics of course, is the work of wireless, of bigger and better ships, of better weather reports, of a general world movement for promoting safety at sea. On the other hand, while we have been doing these things, cutting down on the toll of the deep, we have been devising machines with a most extraordinary ingenuity to make existence on land a hazard. Yet nobody seems to be overly exercised about the latter—New York World.

Aid For Blind Needed

Duty Rests On Government Opinion Of F. E. Layton

Not from any charitable organization or the combined facilities of all institutions in the country, but from the state, must come aid for the sightless members of the community, declared F. E. Layton, president and founder of the Canadian Federation of the Blind.

"We have been told that now is not the time to ask governments for pensions. Why not?" Mr. Layton asked. He addressed the fourth conference of the federation at Montreal, welcoming delegates from all sections of Canada, from Halifax to Vancouver.

Young Trees Distributed

From 1901 to 1920 over 116,000,000 young trees have been sent free to over 100,000 applicants living in the Prairie Provinces—Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta—by the Canadian Government Forestry Service of the Department of the Interior. Last year more than 6,000,000 tree seedlings and cuttings were shipped.

Keep Free From Fat—Feel Younger

Unlike most salts, Kruschen isn't simply a laxative—if that's all you want any kind of salt with any kind of a label will do—but that is all you want?

When you take Kruschen Salts you not only stimulate your bowels, liver and kidneys to function naturally and perfectly, but you supply every essential organ, gland, nerve and fibre in the body with nature's own revitalizing and rejuvenating minerals. At any drug store—take one-half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut down on sweets and fat forming foods and get some moderate regular exercise—just a few days indulgence changes the activity and life grows brighter.

A Virginia woman writes: "I just started on my second bottle of Kruschen Salts and have been losing flesh right along; you have fattened the secret of flesh reduction."

The Northern Seaport

Plans For The Development Of The Townsite Of Churchill

Plans for the development of the townsite of Churchill, seaport of northern Manitoba and terminals of the Hudson Bay Railway, call for the construction of a modern town, with central heating, fireproof public building and semi-fireproof residences, boulevards, parks and squares.

Constructors under a town planning scheme, approved by Hon. Donald G. McKenzie, Provincial Minister of Mines and Natural Resources, every facility of a modern town will be provided. The townsite will be ready for settlement next year. No property will be sold, but it will be disposed of in 50-year leases, subject to revision every five years.

Churchill will be blessed with wide streets for through traffic, protected residential districts and generous parks for recreation. All streets, parks and squares will be named after early explorers and heroes of Canadian history.

Good Poultry Record

Performance Of B.C. University Rhode Island Reds Is Attracting Attention

Professor E. A. Lloyd, head of the poultry department of the University of British Columbia, states that the members of the University's family of Rhode Island Reds have already averaged over 100 eggs in their second year, and give promise of exceeding 200 eggs of 200 before the fall. Such production has never been recorded in any strain or breed anywhere in the world, he said. There are eight birds in the family.

CHAPTER XXII.

Keep her in bed," said Dr. Bennett, as he joined Simon on the porch. "She's had a terrible shock, but she's strong for all she's so slender; and we must save that baby. I'll drop in again this afternoon. In the meantime—well, I'm not such a fool as to think you can keep her mind off this horrible possibility, but give her all the encouragement you can. Tell her about cases you've heard of where boats supposed to have been lost were picked up weeks afterward. Put your imagination to work and invent such stories if you can't remember any. She's got pluck, and grit, and everything on her side; but a broken heart isn't the fairest tale that cynics would have us believe. Mr. Bartlett, and Nick is just about the breath of life to that little girl."

"The doctor's eyes were moist. He blew his nose vigorously, and added: "What's being done?"

Simon cleared his throat. "I'm too confounded dazed to really know, but Mr. Halliday's done everything they are to do. He's sent a message to a friend of his who's cruising somewhere off Florida in a big steam yacht—says if no word comes from the 'Sea Bird,' he'll hire it and hunt 'em himself—says it's likely they may have landed on one of them islands, and if the storm put their radio out of order they couldn't do nothing but wait till they were picked up."

"If their boat was injured. The big liners don't go nowhere near some of them places, and they might stay there months. Gosh! It's got to be powerful tough on Gay—waitin'."

"It will be tougher all of us," said the doctor, "but a thousand times worse for her. Mr. Halliday will have the comfort of doing something. It's a bad business, Mr. Bartlett, a bad business. I wish to God the boy had stayed at home."

Bad news travels fast. Before noon everyone in Bakerfield knew the worst. John Maxwell, who had glanced but briefly at his paper that morning, heard the news on reaching the bank and without a word to any one, returned to Mary for comfort. It seemed to her that he had aged five years in the short half hour since he left her.

"It was I who sent him," he kept repeating. "It was I who sent him. If it hadn't been for me—"

"That's a morbid way to look at it, John," she answered. "We all sent him, Gay as well as the rest of us who had his interests at heart."

She left his side and went to the window, looking out at the glory of her blossoming garden. The sight hurt her, remembering how Nick had played there with her own children so long ago. At last she turned.

"I'm going to Gay now," she said gently. "And you must go back to work, John. Of course everything possible will be done to find them. Julie telephoned me just before you came. She said Mr. Halliday was already planning to start for Florida, where he will make every effort to locate them if it—"

Mary stopped abruptly, and going to her husband, kissed his bowed head.

"Johnny, you mustn't feel this way. Gay would be the last one to blame you. I know. The thing we must do is to help her now in every way we can. She faints when she saw the news in the paper, and is in bed. Julie didn't know what the doctor said; but at least, we can care for the little boys until she's up again. I'll go down at once."

"I'll take you down in the car," said John Maxwell, rising. He felt suddenly better at the thought of doing something, as Mary had known he would. "There's nothing in the world I wouldn't do for Gay; yet we can't make her forget this terrible day," he added sadly. "She will never forget it, however it all ends."

It was in silence that they rode to the house on Elm Street.

"You go on up," said Simon to Mary Maxwell. "Maybe another woman's what she needs. She ain't cried. God a'mighty! I wish she would! I been settin' there tellin' her a pack o' lies about how they ain't no doubt but what Nick's safe and sound; but I got a hunch she knows I'm lyin'. I ain't much of a hand at monkeyin' with the truth."

"All she did was to lay there an' say till my heart most busted: 'Yes, Uncle Sim, o' course he'll get back all right. I'm not goin' to get worked up because o' the baby. It's the little daughter Nick wanted, and maybe she'll be here when he gets back. Think how happy he'll be! No, I'm not worryin', Uncle Sim. Gosh! I couldn't get there a minute longer an' not made a baby o' myself.'"

Tears were furrowing their way down his wrinkled cheeks. John Maxwell wiped his own eyes, and May said: "You mustn't get me to crying, too, if I'm to help Gay. I'll take it like a man, if it will make things easier."

A long hour passed before Mary came back to the two men waiting anxiously below. She sat down in the big rocker, and drew a deep breath.

"Well," she said, in answer to their pleading eyes, "she cried, and I think it will help her. She's droopy now, worn out with emotion, and I hope she'll sleep. She wants me to bring the boys back tonight—says she can't spare them. I didn't tell her any lies, but I think I gave her a bit of courage, though the dear child has a good stock of her own. And John," Mary's voice trembled at last, "the first thing she said was to tell you not to blame yourself for sending Nick away. She spoke of it more than once, and said that as soon as she was better she wanted to see you. There! that's all. If there's anything we can do, Mr. Bartlett, day or night, just call us. I'll go along home now and take the babies. It's just as well that they shouldn't be with Gay today. She'd try to keep up before them; and there's a limit to human strength and endurance, you know."

"I feel like I'd most reached the end o' mine," confessed Simon. He looked pitifully old in the bright morning sunlight. "But when I think o' that plucky little girl upstairs—Sunny," he broke off suddenly, as the little boy appeared around a corner, "here's Miss Maxwell come to take you 'n' Nick on a holiday. You dun wash yer hands like a good boy."

"Can little Marfy go too?" asked Sunny, his face beaming. "She'll be awful lonesome 'out on boys. You goin' to have 'freshments, Aunt Mary? It's a good, hot day for 'freshments, seems to me."

The child's words broke the tension of the hour, and the elders smiled as Mary answered: "Yes, little boy, we'll have any kind o' 'freshments that you want. And of course little Martha can come if Mr. Halliday is willing."

"I'll go right over an' ask him," said Sunny eagerly. "He seems awfully busy this morning, but I guess he'll let her go."

A week dragged by—ten days, and no word from the missing yacht. Gay was up again now, spending her days on the porch, a pitifully drawn look over her eyes that told of sleepless nights, but a smile on her lips whenever the little boys demanded her attention.

"Isn't it most time for Daddy to come home?" asked Sunny; and Uncle Sim turned away as Gay answered steadily: "Yes, dearie. We'll hear from him soon, I'm sure."

The children's innocent chatter about their father came near to breaking Simon's heart.

"I do no how she keeps up before 'em," he said to Halliday; but when John Maxwell made the same remark to Mary, she answered: "I do. It's because of the baby that's coming. She's afraid to let herself brood. But it frightens me just the same. I'm wondering if her brain can stand the strain. Dr. Bennett says she's wonderful, but I can see that he's worried. When does Mr. Halliday start?"

"To-morrow, I believe. His friends were a good way off, but they put back as soon as they got his wireless, and a message came today saying the yacht would be ready when he got there. The poor fellow looks ghastly—worse than Gay; yet according to Julie Nippa he's anything but a happy marriage."

"That makes it worse, of course," said Mary understandingly. "Perhaps he has things to regret, Johnny, while Gay has never had a thought away from Nick, nor he from her. Whatever comes, she's made a success of her marriage. Not all women have that comfort when they lose their best beloved."

It was the first of June, and like all June in Bakerfield, the weather was hot, and gave promise of hotter days to come. Uncle Sim longed vaguely for the cooler air of his own State Line. He would have packed up Gay's entire household and taken them with him gladly, but he knew that was impossible, and for their sakes he stoically faced the thought of a Bakerfield summer. But his brave attempts at cheer were sometimes pitiful, and once Gay remonstrated.

"Uncle Sim dear, don't try so hard to pretend there's nothing wrong. We won't talk about it, and we must keep the children happy; but we needn't make believe before each other, need we? Besides, there—there is a chance that Mr. Halliday will find them. You believe that, don't you, Uncle Sim?"

Tinned Hams From Denmark

Danish Methods Of Marketing Sets Mark That Is Hard To Beat

There is food for thought for the Canadian farmer in the recent arrival in the Canadian market of "tinned hams" from Denmark. When it comes to marketing its production, or over production, if you prefer, the little kingdom of Denmark sets a pace which is hard to beat. Not only do they market their product in all the usual forms, maintaining the dominant position in the British market, but they are now processing their finest cuts, packaging them attractively, and making a strong bid for the larger consuming centres in our own Canadian market. Canadian farmers should not see an incentive to opportunity in the situation. A study of the fundamental principles underlying Danish methods might hold much of useful interest.

Suit Made In Record Time

Shear Sheep and Finish Suit In Three Hours and 22 Minutes

In response to a challenge made by Sir Malcolm Campbell in a speech before the Bradford Rotary Club recently, a Yorkshire manufacturing firm and a Leeds tailoring firm have broken the time record in producing a suit of clothes.

Starting with the shearing of a sheep the suit was finished in three hours and 22 minutes. The previous record set in the United States in 1898 was six hours and five minutes. The suit was made to fit Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary for the Dominion, who agreed to wear it at the Imperial Industries Fair, at Bradford, next month and later at the Imperial Economic Conference.

Report Is Denied

Regina-Saskatoon Edmonton Air Mail Not To Be Discontinued

Officials of the post office department denied reports that the Regina-Saskatoon-Edmonton branch of the western air mail route was to be discontinued after July 15. It was pointed out that this story, similar to one some time ago saying all the mail services were to be disbanded, was apparently based on the cancelling of the present air mail contracts in order to give the government an opportunity to review the situation. These contracts terminate at different dates, it was explained.

Don't worry about the weather. There will be lots more.

British Admiralty Gives Credit To Londoner

Invention Of R. H. Davis Saves Lives Of Men Trapped In Submarine

Six men who escaped from the sunken submarine "Posidon" apparently owe their lives to the invention of a Londoner, R. H. Davis, who provided them with what is described in effect as a "third lung" resembling a lifebelt with a gas mask attached.

It was designed to enable men trapped in a submarine to breathe freely until they had a chance to escape.

"It is twelve months since the apparatus was first served out as part of the equipment of submarine crews," Gorman Davis, the inventor's son, said. "It consists of a breathing bag carried on a man's chest and a buoyancy apparatus. To the bag is attached a cylinder of oxygen and the man inhales and exhales air which is being continually purified in the bag. With one of these bags it is possible for a man to live an appreciable time under water. Goggles are used to protect the eyes."

If there is life aboard a submarine after she is sunk it is possible with this apparatus to escape to the surface no matter how deep the vessel may be.

Pressure in one chamber must be equalized by flooding until it equals that outside the ship. Then hatches may be opened and the men escape. Should they be injured or too weak to help themselves much, the apparatus is sufficient to buoyant to carry them safely to the surface and keep them afloat. Should there be other men alive in the "Posidon" there still seems a chance that with this escape apparatus they may get out.

The Admiralty confirmed the fact that six men escaped by means of the Davis apparatus.

MUSIC AND MEMORY

The music weaves its vague enchantment here Within the dimness of the lory room.

Till once again I hear the lark's song clear

And high across June meadows sweet with bloom.

I see the white clouds drift and on wide slopes

The arabesques of shadow fleetly pass and clear

With restless fingertips the sunlight gropes

Among the thrusting emerald blades of grass.

Now memory and music intertwine; Though summer and the lark fled long ago,

Again loved notes, in these bright dreams of mine,

Go lifting up from flute and piccolo.

How strange, these wandering players leave the key

To rooms I thought belonged alone to me!

A Good Fish Story

The season's best fish story comes from Banff Springs, Alberta. A 20-pound trout in Lake Minnewanka, yanked an angler off a pier into the water, but the fisherman held on and with the aid of a police officer and a boat finally landed the prize.

Zoro Agba, the ancient Turk, aptly commented on the occasion of his first plane ride that he hadn't been so excited in the last 150 years.

Aeroplane Prospecting

Areas In Northern Saskatchewan Will Be Investigated

The aeroplane will be employed by Professor J. B. Macdougall of the University of Saskatchewan in locating and charting mineral resources in Northern Saskatchewan. Areas which would otherwise be accessible only with much difficulty can be readily reached by the aeroplane route. Investigation of areas of schist and greenstone presenting favourable prospects for metallic minerals will be made.

Under instructions from the Provincial Department of Railways, Labour and Industries a survey of coal and clay deposits lying north of the Saskatchewan River is also being conducted by Professor W. G. Worcester of the Ceramics Department of the University of Saskatchewan and Walter Haating, developing engineer. For some time these deposits have been known to exist but they have never been thoroughly investigated as to their extent, quality or commercial value.

The survey is being made with a view to developing this area if tests prove that development would be feasible.

Health Of Children Affected

Children Of Unemployed Men In Montreal Show Effect Of Malnutrition

The effect of the economic depression on the children of unemployed men has been revealed by the health service of financial federation, conducted by the Child Welfare Association of Montreal. Ninety per cent. of the children, who are being examined at the rate of 200 a week, are underweight. Miss Esther Beith, R.N., director of the Child Welfare Association, stated.

One child was found to weigh 26 pounds less than normal. Lack of nutritious food has also caused dental decay and clinics conducted by the association are busy doing what they can to halt the rot. A youngster of 13 had to have her entire upper row of teeth extracted. Miss Beith said.

Deportation Question

British Government Has No New Information On Subject Of Deportation From Canada

Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary for the Dominions, was asked in the British House of Commons whether he had received any reply to the representations he said the British Government would make to the Canadian Government regarding deportation from Canada of British subjects who had become public charges in the Dominion, either because of unemployment or because they were suffering from disease.

The minister replied he was not yet in a position to add anything to his answer of April 21, when he had told the House the government was taking steps to get in touch with the Canadian authorities.

Have Completed Survey

Survey Made Of Proposed Marking Cut-Off In Manitoba

Engineers of the Canadian National Railway have completed a survey of the proposed Marking cut-off in Manitoba, and have made a report to the minister of railways and canals, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the National road, told a special parliamentary committee dealing with railway finances. Hon. R. J. Manion, the minister, said he had not seen the report, nor was he aware of its recommendations, because it had been received by his department only a short time ago.

Operated On Himself

Interne At Philadelphia Successfully Removed One Of His Tonsils

An interne at Philadelphia, Pa., attempted to contribute to scientific aims by removing his own tonsils. It was a delicate operation, disclosed Dr. Charles T. Macnaman, of Petersburg, Va., a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania a year ago, succeeded in removing one of the tonsils and found the other one out when he became ill. Miraculously, a disc on his forehead and one on the wall, were used.

Muscular Rheumatism Subdued.—A patient who suffered from muscular rheumatism he cannot do better than to have the region rubbed with Dr. E. C. Cole's Eucalypti Oil. Let the rubbing be brisk and continue until ease is secured. There is more virtue in a bottle of it than can be fully satiated.

The interrogation point was designed from the shape of the human ear. It is quite futile to ask questions unless we lend an attentive ear to the answer.

"Whoever will be great among you, shall be your minister; and whoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all. For even the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister."—Mark x. 43-45

What time we nurse our discontent Rather instead should we recall How once in servant's guise He went, Who was Master of us all.

Now any work, whereby was wrought The Father's will, too irksome thought. Need any be disquieted, Whose heart this memory incense? Who follows where the Lord hath led, What matter is it where He goes? For working with Him, side by side, The meanness task is glorified.

—Mary Bradley.

We cannot be too little to be like Him, nor so great as to work outside of Him."—Adele D. T. Whitney.

Terrorists Are Sentenced

Mafia Terrorists In Italy Face Sentences Totalling 15 Centuries

One hundred and fourteen notorious Mafia terrorists face sentences totalling 15 centuries as a result of their conviction at a trial in Italy lasting almost a year.

Thirteen of the defendants got life, 16 got sentences of 15 to 25 years; 16 will be imprisoned ten to 15 years, and 59 will go to jail for one year. Fifty-seven others were acquitted.

The charges against the prisoners included 43 murders, 26 attempted murders, and many cases of assault, extortion, blackmail, shooting, robbery and bribery.

Persian Balm promotes daintiness, charm and beauty. Magical in its effect on the skin. There is nothing like it for creating and preserving a lovely complexion. Cooling, cleansing, it soothes and relieves all roughness caused by weather conditions. Delicately fragrant, it enhances the most finished appearance. Makes the skin rose-leaved in texture. Truly a peerless toilet requisite for every discerning woman.

Saskatchewan Cattle Shipments

One hundred head of Saskatchewan cattle went forward to the British markets the other day, 30 of which were taken from a feed lot within half a mile of Saskatoon. This is the first of several weekly shipments that will be made by the Saskatchewan Co-operative Livestock Producers Limited.

Took Pinkham Medicines

"I was always tired and I had severe pain at my periods. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me. I took it before my two children were born and I am taking it now at the Change. I have also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and found it a great relief for my inflammation and for a discharge which bothered me."

A colored preacher had just concluded a sermon on "Salvation Am Free" and announced that a collection would be taken up for the benefit of the parson and his family. A member in the audience objected to the paradoxical nature of the proceedings and received this bit of logic in response: "S'pose yo' was thirsty an' come to a river. Yo' can kneel right down an' drink your fill, couldn't yo'? An' it wouldn't cost yo' nothin. Dat water would be free. But, s'posin' yo' was to hab dat water piped to yo' house yo'd have to pay, wouldn't yo'? Waaal brudder, so it is wid salvation. De salvation am free, but it'd be habin' it piped to yo' dat yo' got to pay fo'."
